SURFACE SLIP RESISTANCE AND SUITABLE USING AREAS

At the moment there is no European norm that determines the demands for slip resistance. Therefore German Standarts are used for classification. The slip resistance is influenced by maintenance and wear. These two standards distinguish between the slipperiness of floor surfaces in areas.

- DIN 51130 where people walk with their shoes on R9 to R13

The R level indicates the angle of slippage.

THE MEASUREMENT METHOD SPECIFIED IN DIN51130 DISTINGUISHES AMONG THE FOLLOWING R SLIPPERINESS CLASSES AND PROVIDES INDICATIONS AS TO WHERE THEY MAY BE USED

- R9 (6° - 10°)

Entrances and stairways accessed from outside, restaurants, shops, clinics, hospitals, schools.
- R10 (10° - 19°)

Shared toilets and showers, small kitchens in restaurants and cafes, garages and basements.
- R11 (19° - 27°)

Food production facilities; Mid-sized kitchens in restaurants and cafes, working environments where there is a lot of water and sludge laboratories, laundries, hangars.
- R12 (27° - 35°)

Productions facilities for foods rich in fats such as dairy products, food oils, cured meats, large kitchens in restaurants and cafes, industrials areas where slipper substances are used
- R13 (>35°)

Places where large quantities of fats are used, food processing areas
